FOREWORD

In the 1961 Blue and White the staff has depicted the influence of the surrounding Springfield area upon Classical activities. An over-all look at the school year manifests the many community services offered to students. In the fall the cheerleaders lead Classical rooters on at Trade Field football games. Students spend long hours in the public library doing research for English papers. Mr. Wright from Bosworth Studio visits Classical to snap the yearbook pictures. The winter brings with it such unforgettable experiences as the breakdown of the school bus on Wilbraham Road, or no school because of the snow removal delay. Junior Achievement occupies the students' time after school. Classical enthusiasts spend their Friday nights at the Springfield College Field House watching the basketball team. To most students spring means a jaunt down to Friendly's after the sixth period class, or the excitement of the baseball season as the Bulldogs tackle Tech at Forest Park. Girls' gym classes hasten to the Springfield Armory grounds; the boys run the marathon around the school. Students on their way to work after school glance at the clock on the Campanile, reminding them not to tarry. Juniors make plans for their Prom at the Sheraton-Kimball Hotel. The climax of the year comes when Mayor O'Connor awards diplomas to the graduating class on the platform of the Municipal Auditorium. Springfield is a city rich in cultural and recreational opportunities for its youth, and the Class of 1961 recognizes its responsibility in keeping it so.

Among the many duties of Classical principal
Dr. Joseph N. Rodeheaver,
are his frequent contacts with community organizations.

ADMINISTRATION

Dr. Joseph N. Rodeheaver

Principal

The administrative personnel at Classical

At a farewell party given by the faculty for Classical's departing Assistant Principal, Mr. Donald M. Hatch, Dr. and Mrs. Rodeheaver and Mr. and Mrs. Hatch admire a centerpiece specially made by Mrs. Helen Laramee and the art department.

To the students of Classical High School leadership and the maintenance of academic standards are very important. Principal, Dr. Joseph N. Rodeheaver, and Assistant Principal, Mr. Donald M. Hatch, have been very successful in their management of school administrative affairs for the past five years. This effective duo has strengthened Classical by making changes when the need has appeared in order to offer a better preparation for college.

Unfortunately, Classical is losing Mr. Hatch to the new Westfield Junior High School, where he will begin his duties as principal next fall. Outstanding events in which Mr. Hatch participated during his five years as Assistant Principal are the building of a new Classical library, the renovation of the third floor science department, PTSA sponsored scholarships, new band uniforms, and the painting of practically the entire interior of the building.

Mr. Hatch's final words before departing to enter his new position were "The Classical experience has been a very rewarding one for me."

Donald M. Hatch
Assistant Principal

L. to R. Mr. Arthur Comeau, Mrs. Margaret Ramos, Mr. William Finn

Classical students are fortunate in having three fine school counselors. Mr. Finn and Mrs. Ramos are already known to all students from last year, but Mr. Comeau is a new arrival who was formerly at Buckingham Junior High. As main duties the counselors interview students concerning high school and college problems, plan for visits to and from colleges, and distribute college catalogues and test scores. They have all gained their experience by attending fine colleges themselves. Mr. Finn and Mr. Comeau attended Boston University. Mr. Comeau also went to Fitchburg State College. Mrs. Ramos is a graduate of Bates College.

Because of the tremendous amount of work which has to be done in counseling students, the counselors now have their own secretary — Mrs. Britha. During the morning students often see her typing in the counselors' office. In the afternoon Mrs. Britha helps Mrs. Cowan, Dr. Rodeheaver's secretary. Besides accomplishing these two tasks, she also helps Miss Brown in the school library.

and mental resourcefulness of

The two women responsible for most of the secretarial work at Classical are Mrs. Sheehan and Mrs. Garvey. Each day this smiling team has to review and sign numerous passes and notes, to keep track of attendance and bell schedules, to answer constant questions from students and teachers, and to take care of visitors and phone calls.

Mrs. Barbara Cowan

Mrs. Cowan also is a Classical secretary. As an assistant to Dr. Rodeheaver, she has control of school requisitions, teachers' stock, and college transcripts, and aids the principals whenever necessary. These are just a few more of the duties which make the secretaries an important and necessary part of the administration.

Springfield's future citizens.

Mrs. Rose Burns and Robert Barr

No school, of course, would be complete without a nurse. At Classical Mrs. Burns is the ministering angel who takes care of students physically instead of mentally. Whenever pupils have injuries or feel ill, the nurse gives them her kind consideration, advice, and assistance. As two extra functions, Mrs. Burns attends medical conferences and helps a school doctor give examinations to freshmen.

A graduate of Westfield State College and Springfield College, Mr. Shea teaches a general class of high school students. The training which Mr. Shea gives his students prepares them for active participation in community life.

Mr. John Shea

The teachers who instruct Classical

Mr. Henry Black

Here for his second year, Mr. Black now teaches English 10H, 11j, 12c and vocabulary building. Much of his background has come from Boston University and Boston Teachers College. Keeping in line with his interest in English, Mr. Black acts as adviser to the school newspaper, the Recorder, which this year won first prize in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

Miss Teresa Boylan

With an A.B. from Trinity College in Washington, D. C., and a Masters' degree from Harvard University, Miss Boylan puts her skill to good use by instructing courses in English 11 and English 12. Sharing equal time and devotion with this teaching is Miss Boylan's difficult task of coordinating the Classical yearbook, The Blue and White. Here she shows her home-made marionette, Touchstone, to one of her classes.

Miss Ruth Dickerman

Besides being the chairman of the English department, the adviser of the Girls' Patrol, and an executive member of the National Honor Society at Classical, Miss Dickerman is the teacher of numerous English classes. These include English 11c, 12g, 12s, and speech. She has degrees from Mount Holyoke and Springfield College.

Mr. Bernard Donnelly

Mr. Donnelly has just returned to Classical after a leave of one year. Besides teaching English to students of all levels at Classical, he is also one of the coordinators of the school show Carousel. Mr. Donnelly is a graduate of both Brown University and the University of Pennsylvania.

students are masters of the English language,

Mr. Francis Girr

Mr. Girr is another teacher familiar to students of all grades. A graduate of the University of Rhode Island and the University of Connecticut, he has classes in English 10, 10H, 11c, 12g, and 12c. In addition, Mr. Girr is a grade 10 adviser and the adviser to the Senate, the boys' debating club.

Miss Virginia Mills

Besides teaching English 10 and 11H, Miss Mills is the dramatic director at Classical. With Mr. Donnelly she directed the Carousel. The excellent performances of the show this year evidenced the skill of both of these teachers. Miss Mills has earned her Bachelor's degree at Bates and her Master's at Trinity in Hartford, Connecticut.

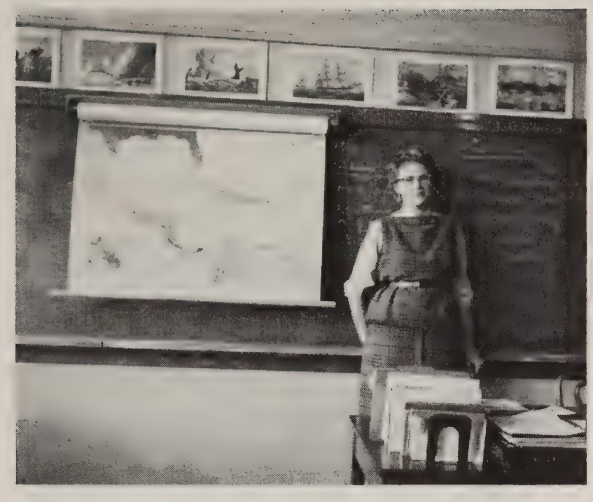

Mrs. Lillian Morrill

English 11c, 12H, 12w and a reading course are all under the direction of Mrs. Morrill, who has studied at Emerson College and Boston University. This pleasant teacher directs the editing of both the Program of Studies and the Student Guide, and serves as adviser to grade 10 students.

Miss Sauer has the distinction of having been both a student and a teacher at Classical, where she now instructs English 10, English 12, English 12H, vocabulary building, and reading efficiency. After graduating from Classical, she continued her study at Westfield State College and Columbia University. At Classical Miss Sauer is also in charge of school publicity and Pierides.

Miss Christine Sauer

history and

A graduate of Mount Holyoke and American International College, Mrs. Bowen teaches American history 11s, 12s, and Economics. Besides being instructor of these courses, she is the chairman of both the senior class advisers and the history department.

New to Classical last year, Mr. Boyle is now a familiar part of the school staff. The courses under his care are American history and American Government and International Relations. As an added interest, he supervises the Student Government. He is a graduate of Holy Cross and American International College.

Mr. Thomas Boyle

Mr. Milton Corbin

Mr. Corbin is one of the teachers who have many courses and extra activities. He teaches both American history and Problems of Democracy. At other times he leads the International Relations Club, advises the Freshman class, or plans projects for his Problems of Democracy classes. To prepare for his work, he was graduated from Springfield College and Columbia Teachers College.

government scholars,

Mr. Bresnahan is another fine addition to Classical. A graduate of Holy Cross College and Springfield College, he teaches ancient and American history. In addition, he is assistant coach of football, adviser for the Boys' Patrol, and a member of the Security Patrol.

Mr. Daniel Bresnahan

Miss Mary Morris

Another new history teacher is Miss Morris, who is already well known by students. She earned her Bachelor's degree at Westfield State College and her Master's at Yale. Besides devoting most of her time to European and World history, she is in charge of American Educational Week at Classical.

Mayor Thomas J. O'Connor was the speaker at one of the Problems of Democracy classes this year. As a Classical graduate, the mayor is always welcome when he comes back to the school. As the chief executive of the city, he is well prepared to speak to students about problems of government.

Mr. Hatch, Mr. Corbin, Mayor O'Connor

linguists of

The chairman of the language department, Dr. Fredrick, instructs classes in French 1j, 2j, 3, and 4s. In addition, Dr. Fredrick supervises the William C. Hill Chapter of the National Honor Society. She has degrees from Mount Holyoke College and Bryn Mawr and has also studiet at the Sorbonne in Paris and at the University of Mexico.

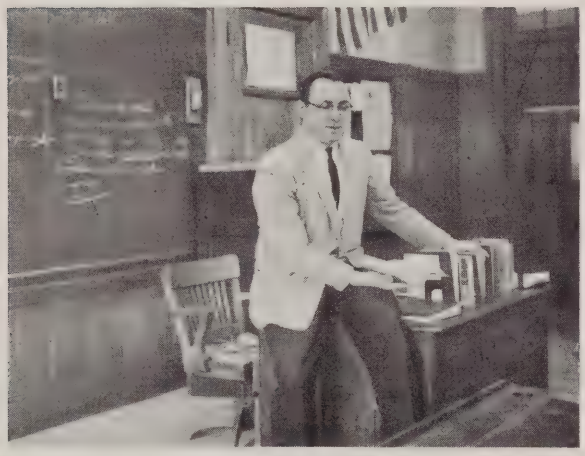

Dr. Edna Fredrick

Miss Mildred Auger

Miss Auger, well known to many students of French and Spanish, is a graduate of Mount Holyoke and Boston University, and has attended the Sorbonne. Her courses include French 2, 2CB, and Spanish 1 and 2. This fine teacher also spends much of her time as chairman of grade 11 advisers.

Mr. James Fleming

As the only teacher of fourth-year Latin, Mr. Fleming constitutes a valuable part of the language department. He also teaches English and Latin 2, advises the Latin Club, and supervises the school store. Colleges he has attended are Our Lady of the Elms and American International College.

Miss Dean has the admiration of all her students for her skill in teaching Latin. She teaches first, second, and third year students. Wellesley is Miss Dean's alma mater. She also has a Master's degree from Boston University.

Miss Elizabeth Dean

numerous foreign tongues,

Besides being director of the Spanish Club, a senior class adviser. and the chairman of the Assembly Committee, busy Mrs. Cobb is the instructor of Spanish 1, 1j, and French 1, 1j. and 3. She has earned both of her degrees at Howard University, and has also studied at the Sorbonne and the Universidad Interamericana.

Mrs. Erika Corbin

Mrs. Corbin is a skilled teacher of French and German, having degrees from both Smith and Middlebury Colleges. For extra activities she directs the International Relations Club with Mr. Corbin, advises the freshman class, and directs the German Club. She is also in charge of a French-speaking homeroom.

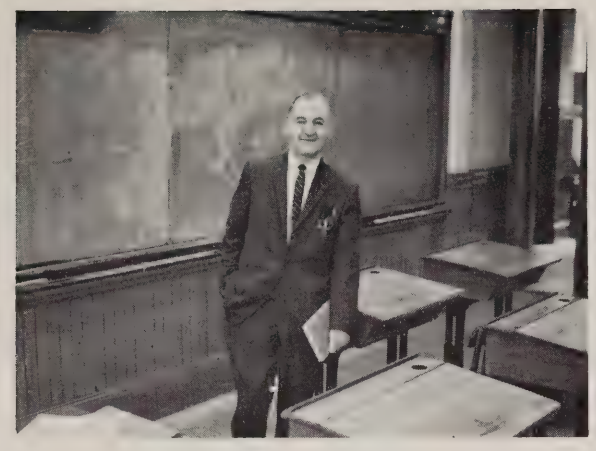

Miss Irene Rouillard

Miss Rouillard is a Classical teacher who has earned her degrees at Wellesley and Middlebury colleges. Moreover, she is another language teacher who has studied at the Sorbonne. The courses she instructs are second year Latin, and second and third year French. She also helps language students by directing the French Affiliations Club and by having charge of a French-speaking homeroom.

Dr. Philip Miller

Dr. Miller has received degrees from the College of the City of New York, the Teachers' Institute, and the Jewish Theological Seminary of America. Hebrew 1, 2, and French 2j are his specialties. The three extra posts he holds are senior class adviser, Hebrew Club adviser, and Assembly Program Committee member.

Mr. George Andrewes

compasses in the field

Mr. Andrewes has a fine background for his courses in mathematics 2, 4, and 4s. He has graduated from Yale and the University of Massachusetts and has studied at numerous English universities. He is the assistant treasurer of student funds, a member of the Executive Board of the National Honor Society, and a committeeman of the Classical Benevolent and Protective Association.

The chairman of the mathematics department is pleasant Miss Parkman. Throughout the year she instructs second and third year students and keeps the school informed of the latest developments and projects in mathematics. Miss Parkman pursued her study at Connecticut State Teachers' College and Springfield College.

Miss Dorothy Parkman

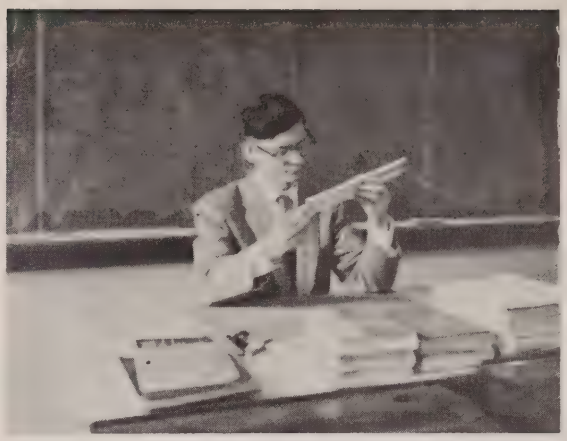

Mr. Armen Jermakian

Teaching students of math 1, 10g, and 3 is the duty of the mathematician known as Mr. Jermakian. For extracurricular activities this teacher is a grade 11 adviser, a coach of the bowling and golf teams, and the leader of the Chess Club. His background has come from the University of Massachusetts and the University of the State of New York.

of mathematics,

Mr. Szetela is the teacher of the famous math 4ss course at Classical. besides classes in mathematics 2, 3, and 4. Although these courses keep him busy he still finds time to be a junior class adviser and director of the Audio-Visual Aides Club and the Stage Crew. The universities of Massachusetts and Michigan have been his places of study.

Mr. Walter Szetela

Mrs. Julia Bale

Having received a Bachelor's degree at Hunter College and a Master's at Columbia University, Mrs. Bale now trains students of mathematics 2, 2s, and 3 in the fields of plane geometry, algebra, and trigonometry. Other assignments which she performs equally well are those of being the publicity and ticket chairman for Carousel and a leader of the Classical Benevolent Association.

Mr. Robert Wessman

Smiling Mr. Wessman, a graduate of Brown University and Springfield College, is another asset to Classical because of both the subject matter he teaches and the activities he directs. Besides teaching three levels of mathematics (2, 3s, 4, 12g), he is the adviser to the Rifle Club and the Erasmians and the student funds treasurer.

Mrs. Beverly is the ambitious director of the Classical Junior Red Cross, a club which this year aided the South End Community Center, Monson State Hospital, and Westover Field. Both Wellesley and Columbia University have given her degrees. She helps students of all grades by conducting courses in mathematics 2, 3, and 12g.

Mrs. Julia Beverly

specialists in all

Mr. James O'Donnell

Mr. O'Donnell is a teacher with classes in two departments. He teaches for the most part biology, but has a class in mathematics 3. Holding degrees from Holy Cross, the University of Massachusetts, and Syracuse University, Mr. O'Donnell also is a senior adviser and adviser to the Biology Club. He also supervises the school elections, and is a member of the steering committee of the Benevolent and Protective Association.

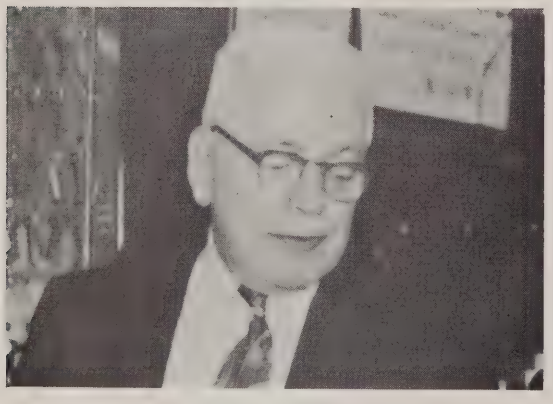

Miss Emma Battis

Many girls who are interested in nursing are grateful to Miss Battis for her physiology course. In addition, she teaches tenth and eleventh grade biology students. At other times she supervises the large Student Treasury program. Like many other teachers, she has studied at both Boston University and Springfield College.

Mrs. Beulah Towne

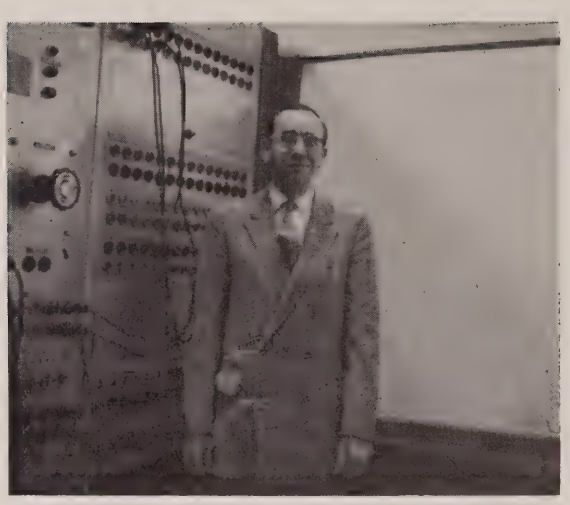

Mrs. Towne has duties in two departments at Classical. She is an instructor of both chemistry and English 10. Her scientific preparation has included college instruction, attendance at summer courses, and research work in the field of medicine. At Middlebury College in Vermont she has earned both her Bachelor's and Master's degree.

Mr. Aleph Oliver

The two colleges from which Mr. Oliver has received degrees are Harvard University and Chicago School of Law. Mr. Oliver's special duty is the supervision of school lockers and locker keys. When not doing this task, he devotes his time and skill to the teaching of general and college preparatory chemistry.

Mr. Lynch, the effervescent teacher of physics, is a graduate of Harvard University. His specialty is the preparation of students for the science world of today. He also helps the school by advising the Student Treasury with Miss Battis and by assisting the performance of Carousel by providing sets and staging.

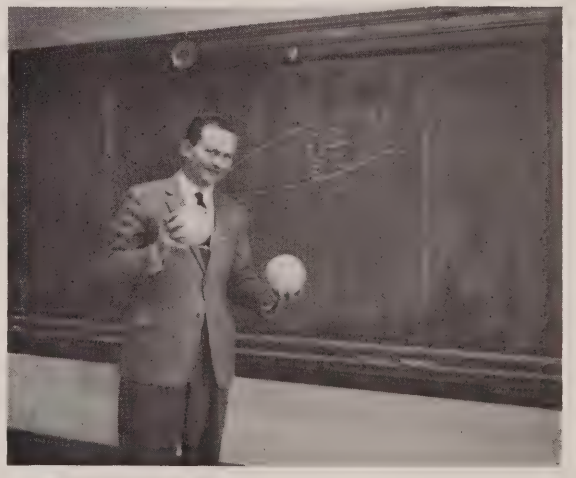

Mr. H. Howard Lynch

Miss FitzGerald is the overseer of the plant conservatory and a faculty representative to the Parent-Teacher-Student Association. Academically she is in charge of courses in biology and physiology and helps the other science teachers in the annual science fair. She has received her degrees from Connecticut College for Women and Mount Holyoke.

Miss Eileen FitzGerald

With the help of excellent teachers like Mr. Mulak, Classical was able to produce many winners in science events like the Westinghouse Science Talent Search this year. Having studied at American International College and Yale University, he teaches general and college preparatory physics and is the adviser for the Science Club.

Mr. Stanley Mulak

an aesthetic expert,

Halina Lewantowicz watches Mrs. K. Helena Laramee explain the techniques of sculpturing.

Again the Classical Art Department had a very educational and successful year. Such success is due to Mrs. Laramee, teacher of Art I, II, III, and IV. A very skilled artist herself, she has studied at the Massachusetts College of Art and the University of Massachusetts. Before coming to Classical, she taught in other Springfield schools. But students hope she never leaves Classical, for she is not only a skilled teacher, but also a kind and true friend to all.

As proof of the outstanding talent present in the department, Classical students won many awards this year in the Scholastic Art contest in Boston. Mrs. Laramee and some students were present to see the awarding of numerous certificates and gold keys by Scholastic Magazines and the Boston Globe. Certificates of Merit winners from Classical included Elaine Leiper, Halina Lewantowicz, Richard Marcuson, Margaret Nystrom, Peter Pawlowicz, Ronna Safford, and William Wegeman. Joyce Lichwala received a gold key for a costume design; James Marcuson and Alex Mapp received keys for photography work. There is also evidence of artistic talent in the varied activities of Classical, such as Carousel, fashion shows, dances, and Library Week.

masters in the realm of music,

Mr. Alfred Jacobs

The music department at Classical is renowned throughout the Springfield area for its fine performances, especially those of Madrigal and the band. Mr. Jacobs is one of the two teachers responsible for such work. He is a graduate of Lamson School of Music and Lowell State College, and has studied at various other music institutions. The groups which he directs are Boys' Chorus, Freshmen Girls' Chorus, Upper Girls' Chorus, Choir, Madrigal, and the string ensemble.

Both the choral groups and band have had an active schedule this season. The singers again presented their annual Christmas and Spring concerts. On May 13, the Madrigal and Boys' Chorus also performed at the Western Massachusetts Music Festival. Madrigal will climax its many outside engagements with its formal concert on June 5.

Besides playing at Classical assemblies, pep rallies, and games, the band has played at other city schools. The members have also played at such outside activities as Armed Forces Day at the Armory and at Westover Field.

Mr. O'Keeffe is the skilled director of the Classical bands. He leads not only the large Classical marching band, but also a student dance band and a German band, which has been very popular with outside groups. Mr. O'Keeffe has received his training at Boston University and Columbia University. The skill of both him and his students is recognized and appreciated each time people hear the Classical band rehearsing early in the morning or playing at a concert at night.

Mr. Vincent O'Keeffe individually aids students such as John Carpenter, Jim Podworski, Ken Kanner, and Steve Kutner.

the very important school librarian,

To make sure the book fair is a success, Miss Brown calls together many of her assistants. Standing left to right are Francine Uretsky, Judy Anthony, Marilyn Hallbourg, Linda Freedman, Michael Ouellette, Patti Mapp, Peter Pawlowicz, Janice Shonak, Margaret Brunelle, Carolyn Brown, Bob Fleischner, Regina Aronson, and Donald Rising. Miss Brown, Beverly Forgette, Barbara Hursh, and David Howe are seated.

Miss Isabelle Brown is the important and always active school librarian. She has received degrees from Mount Holyoke and Syracuse University. Each day Miss Brown and her student assistants discharge, renew, collect, and repair books, answer varied questions, and keep the library neat and orderly.

Classical High School students can be proud of their new library. In its second year of operation, Miss Brown and her aides have offered thousands of books to students and have answered numerous reference questions. Besides having a large collection of books ranging from dictionaries to popular fiction, the library has a fine assortment of records and magazines which are very helpful to both students and teachers. It also has sponsored a very successful book fair where students purchased hundreds of pocket books and thus helped support their library. To delight of the English teachers, the best-seller was Roget's Thesaurus. The average circulation this year has been nineteen articles per day and the average attendance has been eighty-nine.

skilled preceptors of typing and reading,

Many tenth and eleventh grade English students are used to writing provocative papers in the English classes of Mrs. Conniff. At other times Mrs. Conniff helps Miss Porter teach the fundamentals of typing to Classical students. Outside of school, students see her at the Ski Club and the PTSA Executive Board. She is also a member of the steering committee of the Classical Benevolent and Protective Association for teachers. She earned her degrees at the University of Buffalo.

Mrs. Norma Conniff

Classical definitely could not do without its two typing teachers, for although students are not studying business, they need to know how to have presentable papers and express their ideas neatly. Besides the typing courses, there are numerous other subjects which aid students such as the reading and vocabulary classes at Classical. Mrs. Morrill of the English department conducts a Reading Center where students discover their problems and try to increase their rates of speed and comprehension. Mr. Black and Miss Sauer, also from the English department, teach Vocabulary Building classes. Miss Sauer also instructs a Reading Efficiency class each semester.

Miss Dorothy Porter

Smiling Miss Porter is the Classical teacher responsible for teaching typing to students. When not teaching pupils theparts of a typewriter or the techniques of typing letters and theme papers, she helps the whole school, including students, teachers, and office workers, by typing various articles and reports. Because of Miss Porter's experience, she also helps the Blue and White as business adviser. As an extra duty, she was the costume adviser of Carousel this year.

and directors of physical fitness classes

Miss Marion Gislason

Miss Gislason, new to Classical students this year, is very popular and active in numerous activities. Along with Mrs. Andrewes she guides both the cheerleaders and the Girls' Athletic Association and supervises lunch periods. She also conducts hygiene classes. Miss Gislason has received degrees from St. Olaf College in Minnesota and the University of Oslo in Norway.

Mrs. Miriam Andrewes

Another girls' physical education teacher at Classical is Mrs. Andrewes. She has received both of her degrees from Boston University. Her duties include the teaching of physical and driver education, the direction of the cheerleaders and the G.A.A., and the supervising of the lunchroom. Like Mr. Andrewes in the mathematics department, she is a well known and much needed part of the administration.

and driving education.

Calm Mr. Vaughan helps meet the needs of athletes and student drivers. During school hours he holds classes in the gymnasium and also helps students learn the proper way of driving by taking them out on the road. When these duties are over, he coaches basketball, soccer, and tennis. Like all the other gym teachers, he also keeps order in the cafeteria. Mr. Vaughan is a graduate of Springfield College.

Mr. Donald Vaughan

Mr. Batt is a graduate of Springfield College. His specialties are football, track, and wrestling, a sport just organized this year. Mr. Batt offers classroom instruction in driving to junior boys. He helps students stay physically fit and enjoy themselves in varied sports, and also helps prepare students for the many athletic opportunities in college and beyond.

Mr. Henry Batt

John Brennan and Mr. Vaughan are preparing to set out for more training at the wheel. This scene is typical of many class periods through the year.

Starting cleanup operations after a busy lunch period are Jeremiah Cahill, Theodore LaBarre, Thomas Donnelly, Charles Rivers, George Schube, and Thomas Dee.

Keeping Classical in condition is the task of the maintenance

The men who help keep Classical repaired and clean are James Begley, Jr., Jeremiah Cahill, Thomas A. Dee, Thomas E. Donnelly, Theodore LaBarre, George Schube, Samuel Stutts, Albert Phenner, W. Frederic Heath, and their chief Charles Rivers. Helping these men are matrons Mary Malone, Catherine Norcross, and Mae Regan.

Each day nine women prepare the food for hundreds of hungry Classical students and teachers. This task is indeed a very difficult one that requires much food, many hours of preparation, and quite a bit of skill on the part of the women.

and cafeteria personnel

Six boys from Classical also work in the lunchroom each day. Their duties are collecting and washing numerous dishes. The students are therefore able to gain working experience, to earn some money, and to help keep the school clean.

These boys help to keep the Classical cafeteria neat: Robert Durick, Dennis Clinton, Bruce Wright, Bruce Kenney and Eric Vinton.

Katherine Flynn, Roberta Therrien, Marcia Atkins, Judi Waniga, Debbie Carlin, Ingrid Peiser, Alta Laino, Joan Marchand, Barbara Kubik, Claudette Smith, and Cheryl Foze stand ready for the "charge of the lunch brigade."

The cashiers responsible for the handling of lunch money are also students. The girls take turns during lunch hour collecting money form the sale of meals and milk. Mrs. Frances Scully is the superviser of the cashiers. Absent at the time of the picture were Judith Keeney and Mary Ann Kuczyenski.

Classical students, Ann Murray,
Nancy McNiff, Sharan Bush, Marilyn Daigle and James Gaudreau, enjoy the facilities offered by such institutions as the Springfield Public Library.

STUDENTS

The Class of 1961, Advisors

Mrs. Barbara Bowen

For each member of the Class of 1961 I wish the best of everything. High on my list of wishes for you all are, of course, good health, happy marriage, and challenging work. But also on this list is a special wish for members of this class: may you always be associated with groups as worthy as your high school class has been. True, you have had superior leaders. But superior leaders seldom arise from inferior groups, and they do not long remain superior without a responsible challenge from those who placed them in leadership. May each of you preserve and strengthen your gift of effective group participation.

Barbara Bowen

Mrs. Martha Cobb

"Quality is never an accident. It is always the result of intelligent effort. There must be the will to produce a superior thing."

These words by John Ruskin amply sum up what I want to say to you who are leaving Classical High School. Even more, I believe they serve to underscore the principles by which you have been trained here. Carry with you, then, this "will to produce a superior thing" in whatever you do, whether it be in the area of academic achievement, creative contributions, community and personal relations, or the continued building of your own characters.

Martha Cobb

Certainly you deserve congratulations on your graduation from high school; but unless you are prepared to put into effect certain lessons you should have learned, the mile-stone of graduation will have little significance. All the high grades or honors you may have received are meaningless unless your experiences in high school have strengthened your character so that you will be willing to follow honorable principles no matter what the consequences. Further, the true measure of success or failure in college is not passing or failing grades, but rather a conscience which tells you that you have been true to principles of justice, integrity, and charity. Best wishes.

James Fleming

My very best wishes go to the members of the class of 1961. For the past three years you have been engaged in one of the most important activities in life, the pursuit of wisdom and understanding. How important this is was well understood by King Solomon who, when given the chance to obtain what his heart desired, sought not riches but an understanding heart to judge and discern between good and evil.

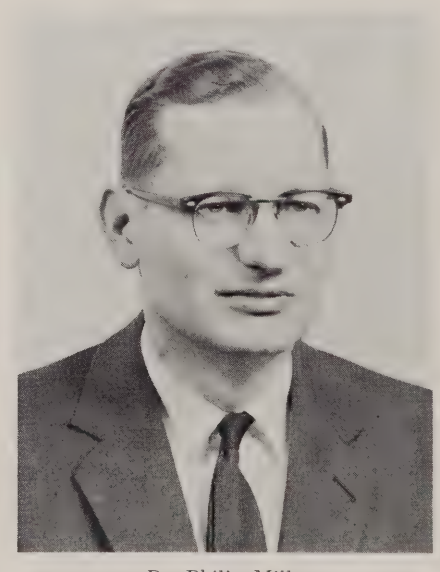

Not only have you acquired much learning — a knowledge of English literature and composition, a knowledge of one or more foreign tongues, a grasp of mathematics, science and history. More important in life is the wise and understanding heart which will be your guide in life.

May the years you have spent at Classical enable you to achieve happiness and success in college, in marriage and in your chosen career.

Philip Miller

MESSAGE OF THE CLASS OF 1961

The class of 1961 can look back upon the past three years at Classical High School with gratitude. We have been exposed to one of our country's finest educational institutions, offering us an abundant supply of knowledge, unequaled in its accessibility. We have had the choice of merely accepting this educational opportunity or absorbing it, and in our turn, translating the knowledge we have gained into worthwhile contributions to our community. Perhaps, in this translation we can reimburse our society for furnishing us with such an excellent background.

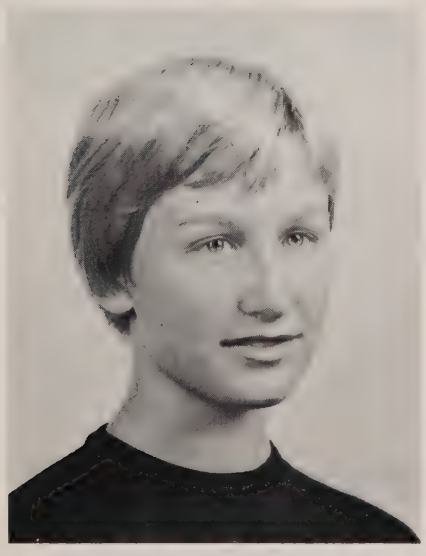

Just as Immanuel Kant tells us "No one has the right to do that which, if everybody did it, would destroy society," inversely, in America, everyone has the right to greatly benefit society. As we leave Classical, let us always remember this ideal, and diligently use our years here as a basis for future achievement.

JUNIOR PROM, 1960

Charming maidens dressed in colorful gowns and their dashing escorts danced through the night amid gorgeous baskets of blue flowers and gilded cages of blue birds, truly a "Rhapsody in Blue." This evening of May 2, 1960 proved to be a most memorable event of the Junior year for the Class of "61". The blissful couples danced to the "swing-n-sway" music of Al Strohman and his band in the Sheraton-Kimball Ballroom on that spring night. A highlight of the Prom was the crowning of the Junior Prom Queen, Jane Vaughn. The enchanting hour of midnight ended the gaiety of a magic night, illuminated with romance and happy times, that will long remain in the memory of the Class of "61".

In the Sheraton-Kimball Ballroom juniors and their guests dance to the music of Al Strohman and his band.

What is Richard Fraser saying to Alicia Gluck? Jane Vaughn looks surprised as Martin Stackhouse, president of the class, announces that she has been elected Queen of the Junior Prom.

The Class of 1962

Deacon Chapin benignly regards the advisers of the class of '62: Mr. Walter Szetela, Miss Mildred Auger, and Mr. Armen Jermakian.

THE JUNIOR CLASS

The junior class has demonstrated enthusiasm for community activities. After school, members of the junior class scatter from one end of the city to the other to pursue their individual interests. In school, numerous committees planned the Junior Dance, Snowflake Soiree, which was held on December 3 in the school gym. The junior activities were culminated by the Prom, which took place on May 2 in the Sheraton-Kimball Ballroom. The theme for the gala event was "Memories are Made of This."

Springfield City Hall is often visited by the junior class officers: Sandra Pilver, treasurer; Diane Tremblay, vice-president; Dorothy Hamer, secretary; Charles Benson, president; and Kenneth Herman, member-at-large.

After school at Friendly's Bob Donaldson and Bruce MacKenzie, Class of 61, could not resist joining juniors Paul Adeletti, Tony Imler, Sue Lord, and Carol Alvord.

Despite the five foot snow banks outside Snowflake Soiree within was a tremendous success.

Snowflake Soiree, the first dance sponsored by the junior class, was held on December 2, 1961. The gym was gaily decorated with white streamers, snowflakes, with snowmen sprinkled here and there to add a wintery touch. Juniors and their guests enjoyed an evening which proved a huge success with gay music and unusual refreshments.

The flaming Alaska was the hit of the evening.

The Bill McCullough Quintet furnished the music, with Ralph Whittle right there in the middle.

These eleven juniors acquired active membership in the National Honor Society: Deborah Meyer, Arlene Sherman, Ann McCue, Virginia Lieson, Deborah Bush, Kenneth Herman, James Swan, Robert Stern, John Solin, George Bourrie, and Michael Houlahan.

The Ides of March, 1961 was certainly a happy day for eleven Classical juniors. On that day they were admitted as active members into the William C. Hill Chapter of the National Honor Society. After the members had taken their oath, Dr. Chatto addressed the assembly, speaking on the honor student's character and his obligations toward mankind.

Having attained a cumulative average of 3.75 by the middle of the junior year, these students became candidates for active membership in the National Honor Society. Membership in this chapter is based on the following qualities: scholarship, character, service, and leadership. Meeting all these qualifications, eleven members of the Class of 1962 were rewarded for their diligence and excellence in performance by election into the society.

Under the guidance of Dr. Fredrick, the Honor Society, headed by Presidents Stephanie Fantl and Roswell Flower, has been fulfilling its purposes as a service organization of the school. During the past year various college and career opportunities were presented to the student body in a series of assemblies sponsored by the Honor Society.

The class of 1963,

The active class of '63, under the capable hands of its advisers and officers, has been successful in staging a fashion show, arranging a dance, and planning a picnic. At a planning meeting are President Aaron Stein, Secretary Paula Robbins, Member-at-large Marjorie Taft, Mrs. Erika Corbin, Treasurer Lois James, Mr. Milton Corbin, Vice-president Maureen Bigelow, Mr. Francis Girr, and Mrs. Lillian Morrill.

The class of '63 is potentially one of the best classes to enter Classical High School, since it has outranked the upperclassmen academically and has participated in more activities than any other previous freshmen class. '63 is the first freshmen class ever to produce a fashion show, besides the usual class dance and picnic. The first act of the class was to elect the officers to lead the class, with the help of the faculty advisers, throughout the coming year. Next, committees composed of students from each homeroom drew up a constitution and selected the class banner and ring. The fashion show, "Fashions For '61," held March 11, was highly successful thanks to the cooperation of the entire class under the direction of Christine Noone, Aaron Stein, and Marjorie Taft. Success continued for the class at their dance April 22 and their picnic at Look Park. In addition, many members of the class of '63 represented Classical in varsity sports. Moreover, one marking period eleven students made the maximum honor roll, a feat not accomplished by a freshman class in more than ten years.

Truly, throughout the year, the class of '63 exhibited much spirit and loyalty. After a summer vacation this energetic group should be ready to take up where they left off to become an even better junior class.

ACTIVITIES

THE BLUE AND WHITE

The Blue and White staff has worked diligently on an annual which would bring back memories of school life around Classical and the city of Springfield. The objectives to be met were demanding and through the careful planning and organization of the staff adviser, Miss Teresa Boylan, and the editor, Jeffrey Bradley, the 1961 yearbook has been successfully completed. Following the first staff meeting in early September, section assignments were allocated. There yet remained an important task to be completed, the selection of a theme. Many ideas were advocated, but through discussion and much debate the staff finally decided the 1961 yearbook theme would be "a student-community relationship." The staff now set to work on the actual assembling of the book. Under the efficient direction of Janet Nixon, the senior album section was prepared. Group pictures were taken, pages planned, write-ups written; every aspect of school life was covered before the book took its final form. In early December the printer arrived with material for the yearbook cover and the staff chose the color for the cover. Joyce Hanke made use of one of Springfield's more striking buildings, the Campanile of the municipal group, in designing the yearbook cover. When the yearbook was at last completed, the junior and senior staff members could look back with satisfaction on the hard work and earnest efforts that went into the 1961 Blue and White and began work on the 1962 edition.

Photographer, Ronald Brennan, catches Joyce Hanke, Elizabeth Pease, Donald Schofield, and John Nicoletta as they are about to enter the Museum of Natural History, one of the four fine museums in the city of Springfield.

One of the many steps in producing a yearbook is the cutting and pasting of the pictures on cardboard for the printer. Here Sue Lord cuts a picture as Bill Kern puts paste on another and Kathy Topodas pastes the final picture on to the cardboard.

The cover of the Blue and White is first drawn on paper twice the size of the finished one. Joyce Hanke spent many hours on the cover and here she adds the final touches to it.

Miss Boylan helps Donald Rising and Donald D'Amato choose pictures for their Administration section.

This is a familiar sight in 122 as the yearbook progresses. Sunny Jo Blum is busy typing while Janice Nixon proudly crosses off her Senior section which has gone to press. Donald Rising supervises the work of Barbara Crowe and Betsy Pease as they proof-read returned galleys.

ADVISER—Mr. Henry Black

The staff responsible for the production of the Recorder are (seated) Mr. Black, Marion Antiles, Roberta Silverman, Susan Paounoff, Rosalynde Creeger, Ellen Kurn, and Susan Jones; (standing) Ronald Rising, Linda Valonen, David Weinland, Andrea Chase, Roy Blitzer, Martin Bass, Peter Pawlowicz, Eric Sirulnick, Michael Ouellette, Ruth Goldberg, James Marcuson, and Stephanie Fantl.

One of the first phases in the Recorder development is the writing of copy. Here William Goodlatte, Silvia Gloth, and Eric Sirulnik type out their final drafts.

THE RECORDER

"You're late, you're late, for a very important date — the deadline!" Not really — the newspaper staff has managed to meet every deadline all year, despite the near frenzy of staff adviser, Mr. Henry Black, and editors Marion Antiles and Stephanie Fantl.

This year the Recorder news staff wrote more news than ever before, (using not only the first page, but also parts of the third.) And what news! — from the Classical presidential poll (a true prediction) to the departure of Vice-Principal Donald W. Hatch, the Recorder staff covered everything.

The editorial writers, headed by editorial editor Roberta Silverman, had more trouble than ever before, but ended the year with quite a few worthwhile editorials. Also, on Roberta's page were the features "Variations on a Theme", "Reviews", and, of course, "Student of the Month".

We will always remember "Reflections", "90 Proof", "His and Hers", and "Stray Notes" — the feature page, editor Susan Paounoff's masterpiece — and William Goodlatte's sports page, with new "Athlete of the Month" and "Sportscast" columns. Those two pages were probably the best read in the paper.

It was a good newspaper, a Columbia Scholastic Press Association first prize winner, for which the Classical student body impatiently waited on the last Friday of each month.

Susan Paounoff, Elaine Saykin, Roswell Flower, Stephainie Fantl, and Marion Antiles carefully proofread the Recorder to find any errors before the paper is distributed to the student subscribers.

Ruth Goldberg, editorial writer, enjoys reading the Recorder as much as writing it.

Classical High School is proud to have the only high school string ensemble in the city: Linda Nassar, Alan Zeller, Laurie Wessman, Jeff Bradley, Moyah Gibson, Gerald Riffilmacher, Linda Nadleman, Joakim Liatsos, Mr. Jacobs.

"There is no truer truth obtainable by Man than comes of music." — Robert Browning.

This idea characterizes the meaning of music for Classical students. Under the direction of Mr. Alfred Jacobs the very talented string ensemble performed excellently at the Christmas concert, spring festival, and several school assemblies. All who have had the pleasure of hearing the ensemble play such pieces as "Come Sweet Death" by Bach, and the "Suite from Dido and Aeneas" by Henry Purcell, will agree that the extra effort Mr. Jacobs put into the development of this group was worthwhile.

The ambition of every vocal music student at Classical is to become a member of the Madrigal Singers. Membership requires not only a fine voice but an outstanding knowledge of the technicalities of music. Since the singers are chosen from the other choral groups at Classical, few freshmen are represented until late in the year. The Madrigal Singers have delighted not only the students in their own school, but also many church and civic organizations throughout the Springfield community.

Mr. O'Keeffe, a smiling and capable conductor, shaped the 1961 band into one of the best to represent Classical High School. The band was a distinctive and vital part of every football gathering. Always behind the team, rain or shine, victorious or defeated, this group provided stirring music to arouse school spirit. Displaying a fine sense of rhythm, the band showed its impressive marching routines and formations on the football field, pleasing both their fellow classmates and spectators in the stands. Not only in the stadium could we hear the fine music of our band, but also in many public activities.

Both the freshmen girls' chorus and the upper class girls' chorus form an integral part of the musical system at Classical. Under the direction of Mr. Jacobs, the girls are trained in the fundamentals of music in preparation for activity in the advanced music groups. At the Christmas and the spring concerts the girls have an opportunity to demonstrate the musical techniques which they have developed through singing with the choruses.

THE UPPER GIRLS' CHORUS composed of junior and senior girls adds quality to Classical High School music. First Row: Sandi Nissen, Marilyn LaValley, Paulette Nareau. The choir, the largest of the musical groups at Classical, has many enthusiastic members who look forward to their daily sessions with Mr. Jacobs. The choir has participated in several assemblies and in the Christmas and Spring Concerts. Some of their selections include "West Side Story," "Bim-Bam and Blessing," and "Glory."

This chorus offers freshmen boys who are not eligible for the more advanced music groups, and many upperclassmen an occasion to prepare for singing in larger groups in subsequent years. The membership in this group is open without audition to all boys who enjoy good music.

EVEN THOUGH THE FRESHMEN BOYS' CHORUS is a small group it plays no small part in establishing the reputation for splendid selections of songs in the music department. First Row: Raymond Durocher, Robert Fleischner, Robert Bullivant, Allan Zeller, Peter Herndon, Mark Clark, Carl Shapiro, Gerald Cignoli. Purpose and duties: Behind the door of Room 227 is located the Girls' Patrol, an organization known for its efficiency and service to Classical High School. The enthusiastic juniors and seniors who make up the Patrol have the responsibility of assisting the secretaries and members of the faculty in the office, keeping order in the lunch room, checking passes, and policing the powder rooms. Yearly hearing and vision tests are conducted with the assistance of the Patrol. The girls are often called upon to usher at school functions. New to Girls' Patrol activities this year was the Hospitality Committee, the members of which greet guest speakers and visitors to Classical High School.

Many students buy their school supplies at the school store. Here Jane Chalfant buys a book cover from Robert Fleichner and Bruce Scott, school store committee members.

Purpose: To promote and to maintain the welfare of Classical High School Activities: Early in September, the Student Government elected a student from Classical to act as hostess for one of New England's governors at the Eastern States Exposition. This was the first of many duties which this student body would assume during the school year. The Student Government was responsible for such projects as

Freshman and junior elections
Student Government dance
School store
Sale of sports tickets
Student of the month elections
Special assemblies
Student Treasury drive
"Carousel" candy sale

This active organization, moreover, sponsors the Brotherhood Award, the Daughters of the American Revolution, and participated in the Tufts Conference, the Student Government Day in Boston, and the Student Government Exchange Program.

create responsible attitudes worthy of good citizens.

Among the most successful activities of the Student Government was the S.T. dance, the first dance of the school year. All who attended had a pleasant evening.

A service rendered by the Student Government was the appointment of Student Treasury Agents. In early September, the S.T. started a campaign to raise funds for the Student Government from the sale of S.T. tickets. The student having an S.T. ticket is entitled to the following benefits: reduced prices for football, basketball, hockey, and all other sports games; special rates for the annual Carousel production and the Spring Concert; a free copy of the Recorder; a discount on the Blue and White; and full payment of class dues, Seniors who have bought S.T. tickets for three years also receive tickets for the Senior Banquet and the Senior Prom Free of Charge.

Student treasury agents responsible for collecting student funds are (first row) Marjory Cohen, Madaline Crane, Laurie Wessman, Sunny Jo Blum, Carolyn Chmura, Cassandra Nuger; (second row) Bruce Scott, Maida Hurwitz, Gladys Flower, Linda Renaud, Pamela Beach, Cheryl Hunter, Elaine Sakin, (third row) Peter Cokkinias, Raymond Graham, Diane Tarrant, Susan Mika, Pauline Chapdelaine; (fourth row) Lee Cassanelli, Richard Fraser, Steve Fields, Barbara Gaglirducci; (fifth row) John Monroe, John Mason, Richard Yetwin, Barry Pilver, Nancy Gordon.

Resumé: Carousel "61" took place on February 24 and 25 in the Classical High School auditorium. The show was made a success not only by the outstanding performance given by the characters but also by the hard work of those behind the scenes. Carousel could not have been produced without Thomas Greensmith and Monty Schwartz writing the script; Kevin McCook working the lights; Susan St. Jacques managing the props; Sylvia Gheno in charge of costumes and Joyce Asher and David Grahame working on sets. The music provided by Mr. O'Keefe and the band added the finishing touches to the performance. The play itself, "Proof or Consequences" revolved around the loss and subsequent recovery of the "Black and Blue" yearbook proofs.

and instructive to Classical Thespians, who produce

With stage set for the international scene, the third act of Carousel began with the spirited music of the German band.

Folowing the German band was Kathy Misco, representing France singing the song "C'est si bon".

Before the curtain came down on Carousel, the entire cast assembled on the stage for the finale, singing a melody of the songs used in the play. This concluded the very successful and enjoyable 1961 production of the school play.

Adviser: Miss Sauer

Time and place of meeting: Every other Tuesday in room 119

Officers: Co President — Stephanie Fantl
Joan Janik
Secretary — Louise Rosenkrantz
Treasurer — Beverly Heafitz

Purpose of Club: To stimulate interest in literature and the art of debating.

Activities: Pierides, the literary and debating society for girls, is one of the oldest organizations at Classical. The club stimulates literary enthusiasm for good books and poetry. Pierides members enjoy also seasonal parties. In addition, Pierides runs the annual short story and poetry contests. In April, Pierides sent two delegates to the A. I. C. Model Congress, where they indroduced an original bill and participated in the legislative proceedings.

	Vice-President	Robert Stern
	Recording Secretary	Kenneth Herman
	Corresponding Secretary	Steven Gladstone
	Treasurer	Martin Bass
	Member-at-Large	Raymond Lapine

Purpose: To debate and discuss timely topics.

Activities: Bi-weekly debates and discussions constituted the program offered by the oldest of the organizations in Classical, the Senate. Candidates from this club attended the American International College Model Congress, participating in a program of democratic government in action. Concluding the activities of the year, club members competed in the annual Senate Tablet Debate, with the winning debater having his name engraved on the tablet in the front hall.

Senate officers for the first half of the year were Raymond Lapine, Martin Bass, Mark Budnitz, Monty Schwartz, and Robert Stern.

Purpose: To increase interest and understanding between the United States and France through an association with a French school in Le Havre, France.

Activities: Two packages were received this year from the French school in Le Harve, Collegé Technique de Jeunes Filles, consisting of a hand woven beach bag and colored slides of some of the famous cathedrals and their stained glass windows. In turn, our club sent to France a photograph album depicting life at Classical. Also sent was a project on the City of Springfield: its buildings, schools, and parks. This exchange of gifts not only provided interest and fun for the club members, but also helped to promote a better understanding and a sense of brotherhood between France and the United States.

Purpose: To provide more opportunity for German conversation; to hear Germans tell of their native land; to see German films; to correspond with German young people.

Activities: Although formation of the newest club of Classical did not come until late in the year, the program offered to student members showed no signs of laxity. Provided this year were films and slides on Germany, highlighted by a showing of a German Oberammergau Passion Play in collaboration with the I.R.C. There was great interest in a German student from a nearby school who spoke to the group on Germany. The members also have procured pen pals from Germany.

Admiring the German costumes of Marc Freedman and Ingrid Peiser are club members (sitting) Rosalynde Creeger, Joyce Nothacker, Tanya Vekshin, and Hans Gotzman; (standing) Nancy Pepers, Linda Schumacher, Theodore Weinberg, Beverly Forgette, Carole Merhar, John Munroe, Mary Meyer, Culverhouse, Edward Kominski, Edward Menard, and Werner Stocker.

Adviser: Dr. Miller

Time and place of meetings: The third or fourth Tuesday in room 327

Officers:

President	Lawrence Ellerin
Vice-President	Marilyn Steinberg
Secretary	Judith Gottschalk
Treasurer	Deborah Bush

Purpose: To foster an interest in Israel and in the Hebrew language and to discuss problems connected with modern Hebrew culture.

Activities: A study of Israel, its culture and customs, was the program offered to interested students by the Hebrew Club. Members celebrated the passing of Hanukkah with a Hanukkah party. Shown were several outstanding films on Israel and Israeli youth. The club debated on the relationship of American Jews and Israel. They also sponsored the planting of a tree in Israel in honor of the Hebrew Club.

Taking time after school to learn more about the customs and culture of Israel were (first row) Dr. Miller, adviser, Marilyn Steinberg, Deborah Bush, Arlene Sherman, Lois Skolnick, Theodore Weinberg, Joan Lavin, and Suzanne Halberstedt; (second row) Dene Crane, Larry Ellerin, Judy Gottschalk, Gil Abramson, and Joyce Rubin.

Purpose: To enrich pupils' knowledge and understanding of Spanish and Spanish-American culture.

Activities: The programs offered by the Spanish Club were many and varied, each conducted in Spanish. Speakers talked to the group on Spanish customs and cultures. Slides, records, and tape recordings were presented to shed light on the Spanish and Spanish-American way of life. Members celebrated Christmas with a typical Spanish fiesta. The club also presented a Pan-American Day program.

	Treasurer	Theodore Weinberg
	Program Chairman	Sunny Jo Blum Barbara Hursh

Purpose: To acquaint members with our neighbors of near and far; thus, giving us a better understanding of people and customs of the various countries of the world.

Activities: Uniting a community of nations was the theme conveyed this year to members of Classical's largest student organization. Among the informative and outstanding programs presented were Mr. Blum's talk on Alaska and Mr. Dewrance's talk on the Congo. These talks, with the aid of color slides, met with the applause of student members and proved to be highly interesting.

A United Nations assembly program, presented by this organization to the Classical student body was an outstanding highlight of the school year, stimulating interest in this world body. As in past years, a trip to the United Nations Headquarters in New York City by club members concluded a successful year for the I.R.C.

One of the interesting programs was the talk given by Mr. Blum on Alaska. Here he explains an important feature of the 49th state to Roy Blitzer and Sunny Jo Blum by using a map of Alaska.

Between meetings membership cards are sorted and returned to members. The cards, collected at the beginning of each meeting, enables the I.R.C. to keep an accurate attendance record.

Making known the customs and culture of foreign lands was the responsibility of the I.R.C. officers. Presiding this year were Sunny Jo Blum and Barbara Hursh, program chairmen; Roy Blitzer, president; Theodore Weinberg, treasurer; Marilyn LaValley, secretary; Joyce Hanke, vice president.

Adviser: Mrs. Julia Beverly

Officers:

President	Virginia Evans
Vice President	Bill Leoffler
Secretary	Sunny Jo Blum
Treasurer	Sandra Westerman
Program Chairman	Sandra Lasell

Purpose: To help the people in our community through gifts, entertainment, and donations; to promote good feeling throughout the world.

Activities: An assembly was held in October to kick off the Junior Red Cross drive. Mr. McCue, chairman of the Junior Red Cross and speaker for the day told the student body in what ways they were helping the community. In December, the members held a Christmas party, complete with decorations, games, presents, and refreshments, for the children at the South End Community Center. In February, the Classical chapter sponsored the inter-council meeting of all the councils of the Springfield area. The concluding event of the year was the birthday party held at the Westover Air Force Base Hospital for the ward patients. In addition, various members of the Junior Red Cross have done volunteer work in the hospitals and centers of the community.

In front of the Junior Red Cross Poster, a familiar sight during the months of October and November, are the officers of the Classical Red Cross. BIOLOGY CLUB

Adviser: Mr. O'Donnell

Time and place of meetings: The second and fourth Tuesday after school in room 314.

Officers:

President	Sharan Bush
Vice-President	Nora Kane
Secretary	Andrienne Simmons

Purpose: To provide an opportunity for exploring areas in biology which are touched upon in the biology classes or in which pupils are interested.

Sharan Bush and Andrienne Simmons demonstrated the dissection of a worm to the fellow members of the Biology Club.

Activities: The Biology Club of Classical has held many interesting meetings this year. The programs included films, discussions, book reviews, demonstrations, guest speakers, dissections and other projects. The club was busy in March preparing exhibits for the Classical Science Fair. Besides their after school activities, the members acted as lab helpers in the biology classes.

Time and place of meetings: Whenever possible in the school assembly hall.

Purpose: To foster better understanding among parents, teachers, and students.

Activities: Early in the month of October the P.T.S.A. sponsored a college conference, enabling parents to learn of the opportunities offered in the nation's colleges and universities. Later in the same month this organization sponsored a food sale in an East Longmeadow Stop & Shop. This was followed by the annual open house in November and the month of December brought the appropriate Christmas Carol Service. The P.T.S.A. terminated the year with a rummage sale in April. With the money earned from these various programs scholarships were offered to worthy seniors and books were added to the school library.

Time and place of meetings: First period Wednesday in room 311.

Officers:

	Secretary	Margaret Nystrom
	Treasurer	Michael Ouellette

Purpose: To promote a better understanding of art and its many facets to students of art while they learn as they work on projects.

Activities: The Art Club, besides providing decorative posters and art exhibits for the school halls, set up a Christmas corner in December. This was a gift shop filled with items made by club members. All the proceeds went to the Dr. Thomas Dooley's MEDICO. In the same month, they held a mistletoe sale, where attractive bouquets were sold. On February 15, the club went to Boston to view the Scholastic Art Exhibit, in which they had many exhibitions. They visited also art schools and museums. At the beginning of June the Art Club went to Rockport, Massachusetts to visit a quaint art village.

The Art Club worked earnestly on the art exhibits to be used at the Senior Prom. Shown here are Charles Cobb, Mary Anziano, and Joyce Ascher working on two of the many cut panels to be used.

Adviser: Mr. Szetela

Time and place of meetings: No set schedule other than aid to school programs.

Purpose: To faciliate presentation of assemblies by providing technical assistance.

Activities: Although these two organizations did not offer any set program of activity they rendered valuable service to the school. The Stage crew assisted at all dances held in Classical by the setting up of the public address system. The members contributed to the success of Carousel by supervising the lighting, the acoustics, and the recordings. The Audio-Visual Aids assisted the Science, Hebrew, and Biology Clubs with their film programs. The members of the Audio-Visual Aids also gave freely of their time to assist the Christmas Concert and Carousel. They were also ready to assist teachers who were supplementing class instruction with visual and audio aids.

BOOTERS DO IT AGAIN

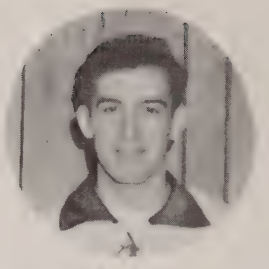

Sparked by such individual standouts as goalie John Munroe, lineman Pete Ostrowski, center Richard Roth, and defenseman Ray Yando, all four of whom won all-city posts, the soccer team climaxed its second straight city title with runner-up honors in the Western Mass. finals. Rugged play and great determination enabled the booters to defeat Tech, co-Western Mass. Champs, and hand that team its sole loss. Classical notched eight wins, three losses, and three ties, chalking up twenty goals while allowing only ten to opponents. Richard Roth and Pete Ostrowski were high scorers with eight and seven goals respectively; the brilliant goal-tending of John Munroe was highlighted by his six shutouts. Losing to co-Western Mass. champs, Ludlow, in overtime during the semi-finals was a hard loss, but in no way did the boys let down in sportsmanship, determination, and conduct.

The football team, featuring an expert passing attack engineered and executed by senior quarterback Pete Sarna, captured its second straight "Little Three" city football title this season. Combining a heavy and aggressive line with a speedy, quick-thinking backfield, the Bulldogs ran up 151 points and allowed only 94. They completed the season with five wins and two losses, both of which came at the hands of undefeated teams. Helped extensively by the defensive techniques of Coach Dan Bresnahan, the gridsters boasted one of the strongest independent lines in the area. Outstanding at their positions were Pete Sarna, quarterback, who averaged 7.9 yards per throw in completing 42 of 102 passes; Mel Bryant, fullback, who gained 455 yards in 72 carries for a 6.3 yard average; Bill Goodlatte, end, who caught 7 passes for 209 yards and a 29.7 yard average; Ed Kominski, halfback, who netted 38 points.

FIELD HOCKEY

During the months of September and October a familiar sight on sunny days was the Classical girls weighted down with sticks, shinguards, and goalposts, trotting up State Street to the Springfield Armory. There the girls participated in playing field hockey under the supervision of Mrs. Andrews and Miss Gislason. As the girls developed their skills, a team was picked to play against the other city high schools. The members of the team enjoyed the competition and fared very well.

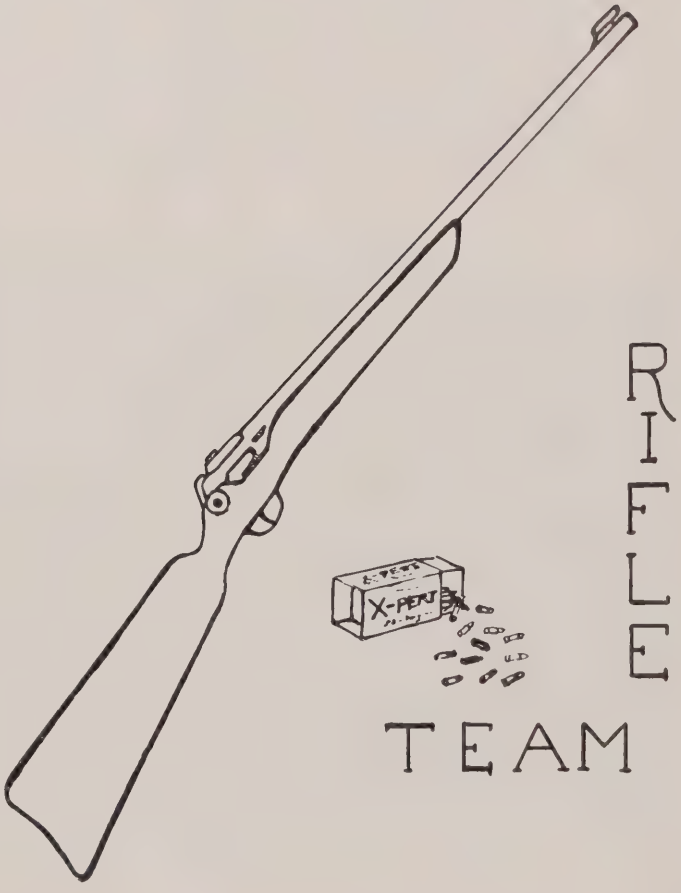

Girls who enjoyed field hockey after school were: Row 1, Carol Meredith, Louise Newton, Gloria Williams, Carol Trask, Joan Levin, Geraldine DeRiso, Karen Taylor, Yvonne Johnson, and Rennie Austin. Row 2, Margie Taft, Mary Culverhouse, Judy Murphy, Linda Schumacher, Sandi Alexander, Tammy Vekshin, Linda Collette, Adrene Simmons, and Dottie Grady. Rifle team members are Edwin Burzynski, Andrew Premo, Lee Hassig, Thomas Scipione, and Raymond Graham.

For the first time in history, the Classical sharp shooters have earned the title of the "Rifle Team". The riflemen had four scheduled meets, two with Tech and two with Trade. Co-captains Andrew Premo and Lee Hassig shot well in several meets. Both team members and Coach Robert Wessman pioneered bravely to secure a position for all future gunmen at Classical.

Led by all-city forward Marion Jenkins, who averaged 16 points per game, the Classical High basketball team finished the 1960-1961 season with 8 wins in 17 games, 3 of 8 in city action. Plagued by serious injuries, the hoopsters performed with determination and ability. When at full strength the team was a constant threat. The season began on a fine note when Classical downed Stafford Springs 66 to 54. After dropping their next two outings to Drury and Technical, the team got back on the right road once again by defeating Drury at home. After successive losses to Commerce and Longmeadow, the hoopsters rebounded for two victories against Trade and Stafford Springs. A hard fought, low scoring battle with Tech ended in a futile 39-38 Tech victory. Following this loss, Classical dropped two more decisions but came back with their best offensive showing, a 69-56 victory over Enfield. Classical then swapped victories with Cathedral—Cathedral taking the first 55-46, and Classical taking the second 58-51. Two more wins followed over Trade and Enfield. In the final game of the season Classical held Chicopee, a quarter-finalist in the Western Massachusetts Tournament, in close check before a second half outburst put that team out of reach, making them a final victor. The team illustrated great versatility, commendable determination, and Classical spirit throughout the season.

BASKETBALL

The basketball team had a very successful season winning every one of their five games. The Classical team competed against girls from Minnechaug, East Longmeadow, Trade, Tech, and Commerce. In these games the girls exhibited the skills learned in class and in extensive after school practices. The members of this victorious team were Fran Smith, Nancy Smith, Gloria Gelinas, Diane Mazur, Yvonne Johnson, Harriette McLaughlin, Louise Moore, Louise Harrington, Audrey Giustina, Ruthanne Batchellor, Ronna Safford, and Marilyn LaValley.

APPARATUS

During the months of November and December the girls' gym was transformed into a maze of rings, ropes, parallel bars, and other types of apparatus. Members of all gym classes worked enthusiastically practicing skills which would help to keep them physically fit. The girls were divided into squads of six to eight girls under the direction of a student leader. The student leader demonstrated the required techniques and assisted the students in mastering them.

For especially interested girls, there were after school practice sessions on Mondays and Wednesdays. These practices gave the girls a chance to continue work on skills already learned in class and to go on to experiment with more difficult skills. The work in gym classes and after school practices was culminated in an apparatus meet among the freshmen, juniors, and seniors. The members of the freshmen team were Joyce Rivers, Joyce McCabe, Louise McGee, Margie Taft, and Rosemary Ward. The junior members were Louise Moore, Beverly Bock, Ann Cobb, Beverly Dearborn, and Eleanor Gray. The seniors were Stephanie Fantl, Halina Lewantowicz, Bonnie Zaleski, Ronna Safford, and Gail Montagna. Although the competition was stiff, the junior class, led by high scorer Bev Dearborn, came out on top.

Classical always has a colorful hockey team, and this year's squad was no exception. Although the year was in no way outstanding, it ended on a happy note with the record showing two ties against a powerful Tech team. In one of these, senior Bill Wegman fired the tying goal late in the final period. Classical's lone win came against a fighting Trade team, always a menace to Classical skaters. A final highlight to the season was the selection of senior Pete Ostrowski to the second city all-star team. Coach Russ Peterson was once again pleased by the spirit, fight, and determination shown by each member of the team.

SWIMMING

To the mermen of '61 goes the highest tribute possible. They climaxed an undefeated season by placing first in the Western Massachusetts Tournament and fifth in state competition. By edging Technical High twice in dual meets, the team accomplished an unprecedented feat. The victory at the Western Massachusetts Tournament brought the team its first championship in its sixteen year history.

Although the team was very well balanced a few individuals did stand out. Co-captain Bill Hurley was undefeated in the backstroke in dual meets. Precision diving by Bruce Wright during the regular season was complimented by his well-deserved second place in the state meet. Co-captain Dennis Holt was the team's star performer, undefeated in the 200-yard free-style in dual meets during the past two years, and setting several pool and team records. He captured two second places in the state meet, and, as a season finale, he set three Classical records in the New England Championship Meet. Coach Otto Wulff described Dennis and his fellow team-mates as the finest swimmers Classical has ever produced.

Wrestling made an entrance into city schools this year, and Classical met this new challenge by compiling a perfect record and winning the city title. Co-captains John Batt and Mike Potenza, undefeated and untied, led the team to eight straight victories and scored 40 points each. They climaxed the year by winning city titles in the 165 and 154 pound classes, respectively. Sol Field and Gerald Cignoli also were city champions in their weight classes. The ability and drive that this new team displayed shows great promise for future grapplers at Classical.

SKI CLUB

A group of winter sport enthusiasts organized the Ski Club in 1960 to provide Classical skiers with ample opportunities for winter recreation. Meetings featuring speakers, movies and displays of ski equipment, were held frequently after school. On the weekends the club's thirty members formed a car pool to provide transportation to local ski areas such as the Snow Basin in Cummington and the Springfield Ski Club in Blandford.

Bowlers for 1960-1961 are (kneeling) Alexander Bazos, Kenneth Kanner, and Coach Jermakian; (standing) George Andros, William Muldrew, and James Betts.

The Classical bowlers finished the second round in runner-up position with an eight win, eight loss record, led by senior James Betts and junior William Muldrew, both of whom averaged over 100. A poor first round did not dishearten the team as they all improved their style and average to finish the year in strong form. Coach Armen Jermakian was proud of the sportsmanship displayed by each team member and the over-all team average of better than 90.

BOWLING

Girls bowling is a sport which has grown considerably in popularity during the last few years at Classical as well as elsewhere. Although bowling is not offered during regular gym classes, girls may enjoy it after school. Avid bowlers gathered every Thursday at the Chestnut Bowling Alleys to improve their averages and to enjoy friendly competition among themselves. The girls who attained the highest averages were selected to represent Classical in an inter-school bowling tournament. This tournament was held at the State Bowling Alleys where Linda Schumacher, Gloria Gelinas, Linda Renaud, Louise Moore, Virginia Evans, Valerie Caswell, Carol Daponde, Elaine Carlson, Joann Autino, and Linda Cole represented Classical. Faring very well, our team took second place.

BASEBALL 1960

Led by Coach Bill Young the baseball team won its second straight city title and a resulting trip to the Western Massachusetts Tournament. The team was eliminated from the competition by a close loss to Ludlow. Outstanding pitching by Pat O'Connor and Daniel Oates, combined with consistent hitting by Paul Scheer and Ray Yando, were the one-two punch in the line-up. Sporting what was perhaps the area's best infield, the team went through the year with a 12 win, 4 loss record, 7 and 1 in city action. The outstanding game of the season was a 3-1 victory over Pittsfield High. In this game Bulldogs handed pitching ace, Joe Costanzo of Pittsfield, his only defeat of the season. Classical routed Trade twice as all the players hit well. Pat O'Connor, who was credited with both wins, struck out nineteen men in the first meeting. Daniel Oates proved to be a jinx to a stubborn Cathedral team as he downed them twice, 2-0 and 6-1. Clutch hitting by Ray Yando drove in two runs in Classical's first victory over Commerce, a 2-1 squeaker. Against Tech, Classical played two completely different games. In the first, freshman Gil Congdon hit a late inning home run to down the Tigers 10-9; in the second game, a throwing error by Pat O'Connor allowed two unearned runs to score and gave Tech a 2-0 victory and Pat's only loss. Both Coach Young and all the team members merit the highest praise possible for their fine performances.

Track is perhaps the only sport in which individualism is advocated. The events are divided into two phases — track and field. Track is comprised of six events: 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, quarter-mile run, half-mile run, mile run, and 180 yard low hurdles. Field also is comprised of six events: High jump, broad jump, pole vault, shot, discus, and javelin. Participants are allowed to enter a maximum of two track and one field or two field and one track event. Although each trackman competes on an individual basis, his primary objective is the success of his team.

BOYS' TRACK

Having lost several lettermen from the previous year, the Classical High track team started once again the task of rebuilding its strength. Composed mostly of juniors and freshmen, the cindermen went through the year inexperienced but constantly improving. Certain individuals demonstrated outstanding skill in their events. Brian O'Neil tied for first in the high jump at the Western Massachusetts Tournament; Roswell Flower placed in the hurdles at the same meet. Paul Adeletti, Classical's sprinter, was the leading scorer during the regular season with seventy points. The Bulldogs won two of six individual meets and one of two triangular meets, placing second in the other. Classical's best effort was the defeat of arch-rival Longmeadow 62½-45½. Their victory over Holyoke and Chicopee in a triangular meet was also an outstanding achievement. In the city meet, Trade placed first with 35 points, Tech second with 29 points, Cathedral third with 24 points, and Classical fourth with 20 points. The proximity of the four scores clearly manifests the drive demonstrated by this young team all season.

GIRLS' TRACK

With the approach of spring, Classical girls' gym classes left the dingy gym for the brisk hike up to the Armory and spring track. After the girls had diligently practiced the needed skills, teams were formed. Then, amid the enthusiastic cries of classmates, these teams competed in racing, jumping, and softball throwing. Along with these intramural contests a meet was held at Blunt Park among the four city high schools. Although the team did not roll up high scores, the girls had a good time just the same.

CREW

1960 was a "rebuilding year" for the Classical crew team. Under Coach Richard Zahner, the team passed the year with little ostensible success but much inward satisfaction. Oarsmanship steadily improved as the season progressed and at the end of the year, the crew showed balance, strength, experience, and confidence which made them a constant threat.

Showing good form, the crew of the Classical shell passes under the North End Bridge.

Standing, Ann Foster, Linda Cole, Carol Merhar, Gail Montagna, Harriet McLaughlin, and Frances Smith.

G.A.A.

A very active club at Classical is the Girls' Athletic Association. This group is comprised of girls who have shown special interest in gym by attending ten after-school activities. By sponsoring these after-school activities, G.A.A. stimulates interest in the games and sports. Eager to help raise money for the student treasury, G.A.A. sponsored a candy sale which resulted in a substantial profit. Besides that, the candy was delicious. This active group also arranged for a trip to the University of Massachusetts. There, the girls used the physical education facilities to bowl, swim, play basketball, badminton, and volleyball.

STUDENT LEADERS

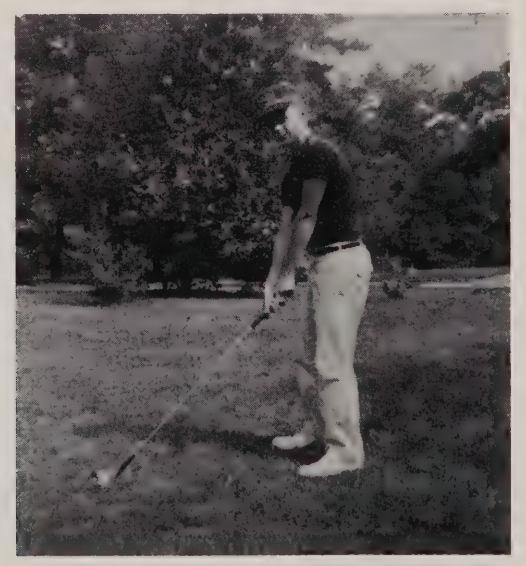

The student leaders are a group of senior girls who have shown exceptional interest in physical education. These girls are required to have physical skill, passing grades, and the endorsement of their teachers. Each senior is placed in charge of a squad of six to eight girls. During classes these students assist the gym teachers by helping with marking, demonstrating various skills and leading exercises. During regulation games they officiate as referees. Through these various activities, the girls develop leadership qualities which help prepare them to become responsible citizens.

Consistent play by senior William Yvon and freshmen Howard Atkinson and James Makol powered Classical to a five win, five loss season. The team showed vast improvement throughout the year, making a better showing against each opponent in the second round. The whole team displayed long driving, clutch putting, and excellent sportsmanship all season long.

"serves" as a standard of honor,

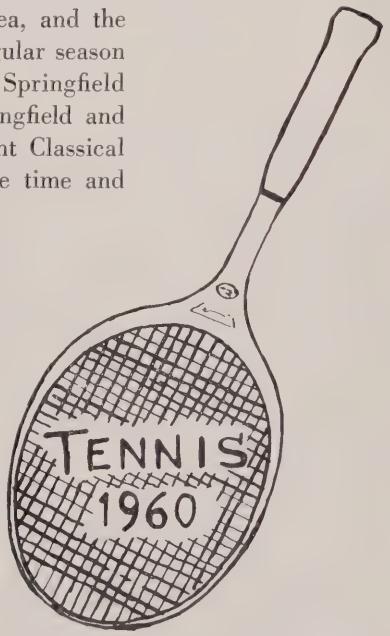

Tennis team members are (kneeling) Arnold Shtrax, Craig Webster, Gale Holt, Gerald Seigel, Jeffrey Tillman; (standing) Coach Donald Vaughan, Matthew Suher, Roy Blitzer, John Munroe, Charles Benson, Eric Carlson.

Classical is generally acknowledged as the tennis power in this area, and the 1960 team rightfully fits into this classification. The team finished the regular season with eight wins and two losses, both of which came at the hands of the Springfield College Freshmen. Classical twice shutout Longmeadow, 7-0. West Sqringfield and Tech also were held scoreless. At the Western Massachusetts Tournament Classical placed third, an achievement which justly credited the team for all the time and work which each member contributed willingly throughout the year.

"cheers"-up the individual,

CHEERLEADERS

Classical cheerleaders have long been noted for their pep, prettiness, and personality. This year's cheerleaders are certainly no exception. These girls have devoted a great deal of time to both practicing the old cheers and making up new ones. Every Friday after school and often during homeroom periods the girls' gym resounds with the stamping and shouting of our cheerleaders hard at work. Their enthusiasm in leading cheers at all the games inspires the team and arouses school spirit among the spectators. Without them none of our games would be complete.

As their part in "Teens Against Polio," our cheerleaders thought of an unusual method of raising money. In the front hall small boxes, labeled with the name of each cheerleader, were placed. Students were asked to donate money in the name of their favorite cheerleader. The cheerleader receiving the most money was to be crowned queen at the Cheerleaders' dance, Midterm Madness. The lucky girl was Ann Cobb.

These volley ball enthusiasts are enjoying a spirited game after school: Carol Daponde, Judy Pedersen, Jill Brainard, Cheryl Foze, Adrene Simmons, Joan Levin, and Tammy Vekshin.

VOLLEYBALL

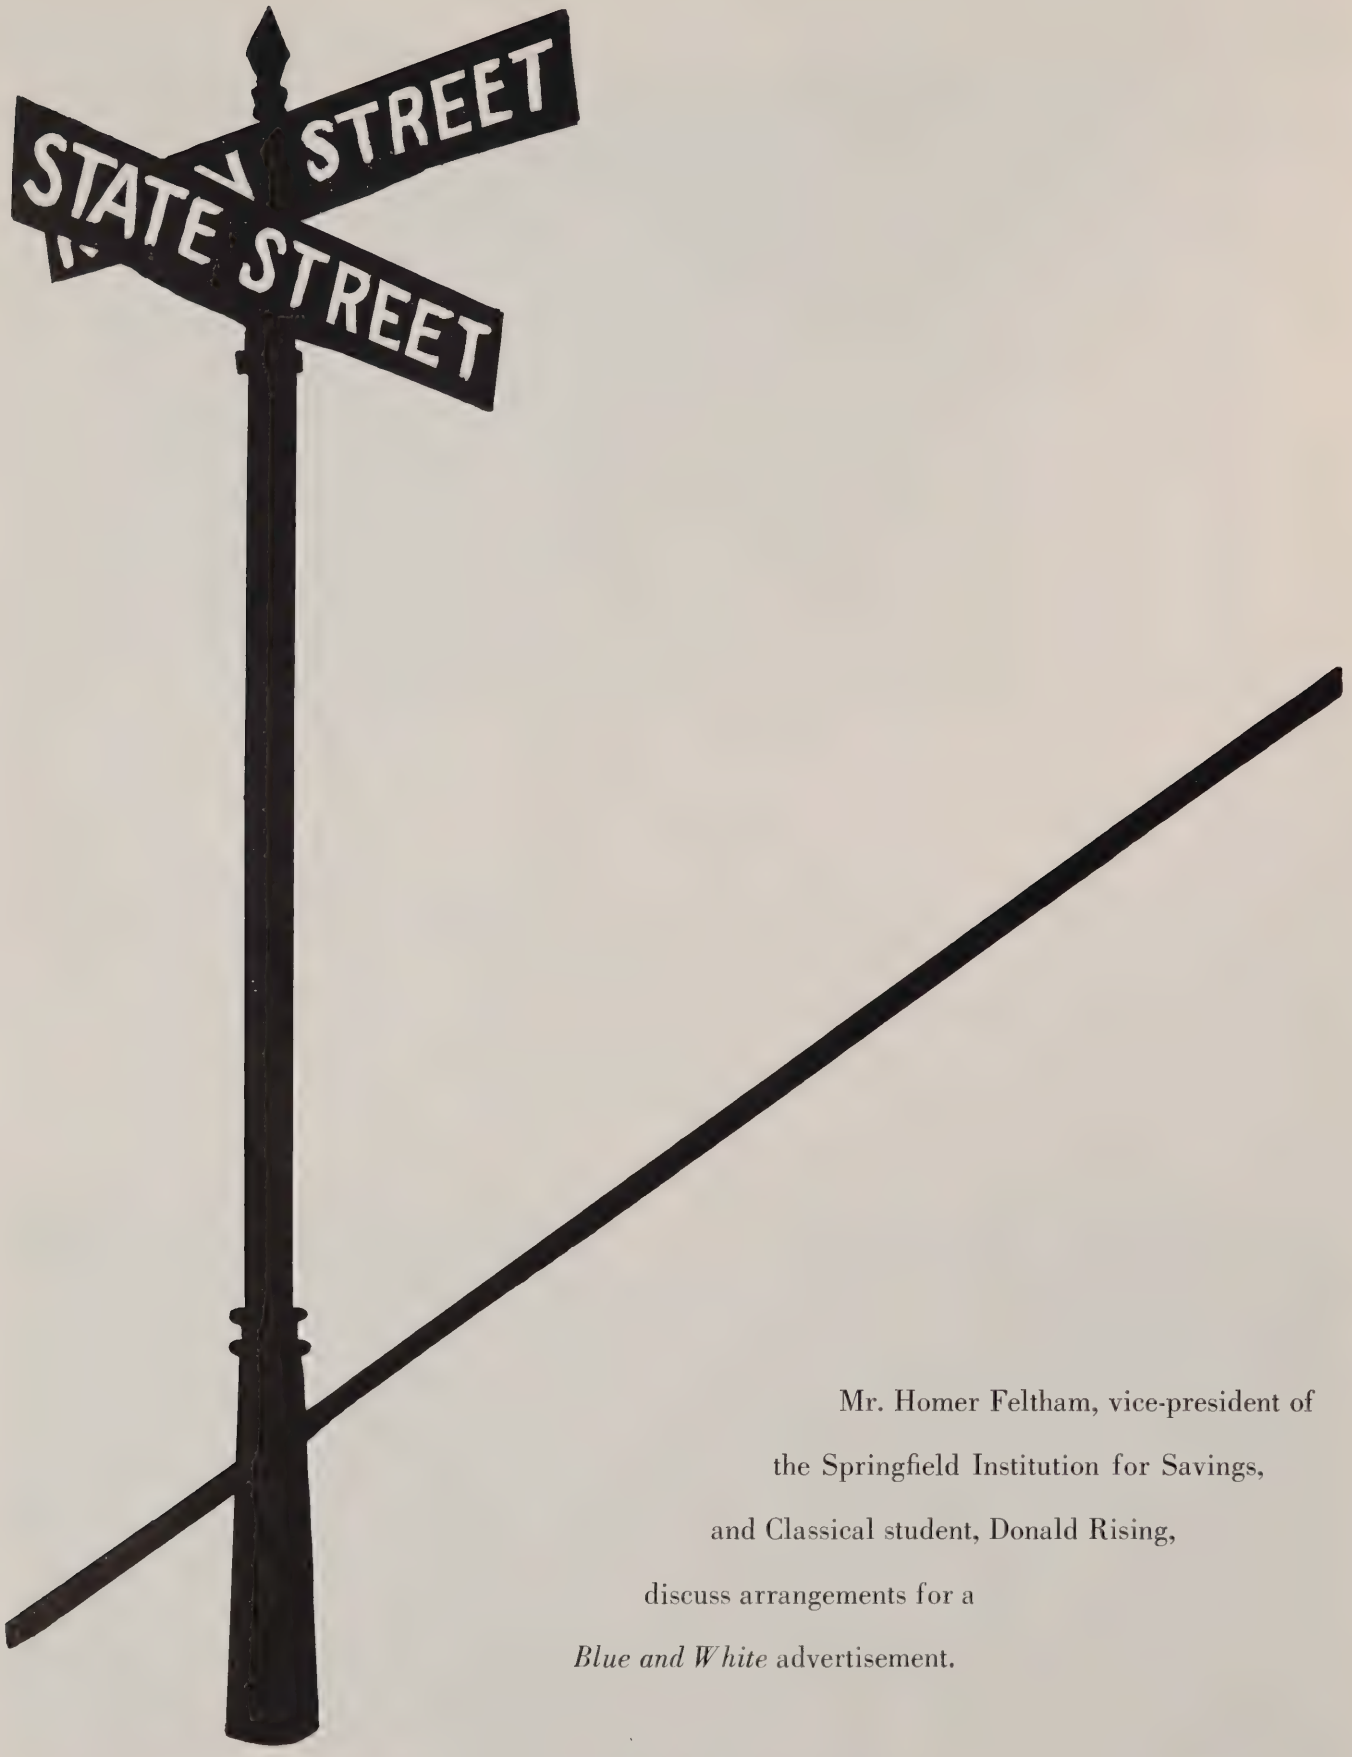

Upon entering the girls' gym during the volleyball season, the spectator is confronted with a scene of mass confusion. However, as he watches for a minute, he realizes that it is actually three games of volleyball going on simultaneously. Such was the usual activity of the girls' gym classes during the months of April and May. In addition to practicing during school time, these enthusiasts played also after school on Mondays and Wednesdays. As a climax a team was selected to compete in a round robin tournament among all the city high schools at Commerce on April 25. Girls representing Classical were Louise Moore, Diane Mazur, Gloria Gelinas, Ellie Gray, Bev Dearborn, Linda Schumacher, Edie Hogan, Sandi Alexander, Joan Levin, Carol Daponde, Helina Lantowicz, Dona Giberti, Judy Kwolek, and Karen Taylor.

A successful volley is eagerly awaited by the opposing team: Pat Broadbent, Susan Margeson, Adrene Simmons, Jill Brainard, and Joan Levin.

Beautiful Hair

B R E C K

THERE ARE THREE BRECK SHAMPOOS FOR THREE DIFFERENT HAIR CONDITIONS

4 ounces 60¢

Every woman is different. One of the most apparent differences is the appearance of her hair. To keep your hair looking its best use a shampoo for your individual hair condition. There are three Breck Shampoos. One Breck Shampoo is for dry hair. Another Breck Shampoo is for oily hair. A third Breck Shampoo is for normal hair. When buying a shampoo select the one Breck Shampoo that is right for your own individual hair condition. A Breck Shampoo leaves hair clean, shining and beautiful.

When you graduate it's wonderful to have a telephone job waiting for you. You'll love the friendly new people you meet. And you'll like the excellent salary, the regular increases, the opportunities for advancement and the many additional benefits that make working for the Telephone Company so attractive to so many young people.

Telephone jobs are important ones. We have our own training program which you can enter without any previous job experience.

Why not come and see our employment interviewer soon . . . before you graduate. Ask the Guidance Counselor at your school to tell you when and where to apply.

"Bank Day" at the Bulldog Savings Bank, a Junior Achievement Company, provides the opportunity for Classical High School students to save ahead for the things they need and want.

But the need for savings does not end with graduation. How you handle your money will play an important part in your happiness, for if you spend unwisely, you will find your money gone and your real goals still unattained. Make this important decision now — that you will save regularly. Bulldog bank books may always be used at any S.I.S. office, or we will be glad to open a new book if you have none.

Best Wishes to you readers of this Annual Tome

In keeping with its theme we show you the building at 191 Chestnut St. This building was built before 1930 and because of sturdy construction and a fine sprinkler system has housed heavy graphic arts processes since it opened. At the present time it is almost filled by the photography, silk screening and letterpress activities of Walter Whittum, Inc. printers of this year's Blue & White.
